If logistic can be exceptionally good... it's with us!

2017 marked the beginning which knows no end. Logistics is not a cakewalk and to create surprisingly great and seamless logistics solution, PTP took birth. PTP's head office is stationed at Bengaluru (Karnataka) in a huge area ranging upto 2500 sqft. The office space is networked by efficiently laid down LAN system and dedicated personnel looking after consignment booking, goods packing, transporting and package delivery. The company started with a small seed capital to provide our valuable partners a full-funnel packing and moving service across India. On bumpy roads and rough patches, we are ready with our fleet of shock proof and heavy duty vehicles for safely transporting your goods from one place to the other. We aim at building deep and long term associations with our clients and look forward to liaison networking. We have a professional team at the backend who books and tracks your consignment. Our trained and experienced packers 'DO NOT MAKE NOISE WHEN THEY PACK' and that's enough to understand how much we ensure customer's peace. We know shifting is a mental block but only till we have not hand-held and steered you through. Transports Industry is dynamic and ever changing. At PTP, we ensure that we keep abreast with norms of road, water and air transport and keep revamping our systems and associated documentation. We believe in keeping transparent all our dealings and prices with our partners. Our strong communication network with latest technologies installed, we have ranked as India's fastest growing logistics company.

The Founder

The thinking tanks behind this venture are young minds who saw that logistics in many places lacks coordination. They faced every loophole in the personal lives including delayed package deliveries, non-traceability of consignment,

Mr. Jayraj Padhil Appukuttan, with a clear vision of streamlining and providing top notch packing and moving services had set up PTP with two more business partners. Jayraj works closely and looks after all the operational set up at PTP. He is himself in constant touch with the transporters, vehicle drivers, packers & other employees to understand what kind of logistics service customers actually want. He has himself worked in the transport industry and knows the thick and thins faced by Indian transport industry. At PTP, he aims to mitigate all the loopholes and establish a customer-friendly logistic chain.

Mission

PTP looks forward to develop deep trust of customers towards their packers and movers, both in Indian and International Shipping Market. It aims to do this by providing transparent and well-coordinated logistics service to customers and businesses associated with it.

Vision

PTP envisions and constantly endeavors towards ranking amongst top 10 logistics partners of India in next 2 years.
